PFAS Declaration

Sustainability and safety

At Nevotex, we provide products that meet the highest quality standards while also promoting a sustainable and safe environment. As part of this commitment, we strive to offer a broader selection of our artificial leather to be free from harmful chemicals, including perfluorinated and polyfluorinated alkyl substances (PFAS).

Why we avoid PFAS

PFAS are a group of chemicals that have been used in many industrial and consumer products due to their water, grease, and dirt-repellent properties. However, research has shown that these substances can be harmful to both the environment and human health.

Oeko-Tex certification

To ensure that certain part of our collections of artificial leather are free from PFAS and other harmful substances, we use Oeko-Tex certification. Oeko-Tex is an independent organization that conducts rigorous testing and certification to guarantee that textiles meet strict environmental and health standards. By adhering to Oeko-Tex standards, we can assure our customers that our products are safe, sustainable, and of the highest quality.

Our long-term goal

By eliminating PFAS from our products and following Oeko-Tex guidelines, we aim to reduce our environmental impact. When introducing new artificial leather collections we strive to increase our share of Oeko-Tex certified artificial leather. We are proud to offer artificial leather that continues to maintain high quality, meet the market demands, not only looking and feeling great but also contributing to a better and more sustainable future.
